

Rezoning of Sites to Facilitate the Implementation of an Integrated Waste Management Policy for Hong Kong

Executive Summary

Contents

- 1 Introduction
- 2 Purpose of the Application
- 3 The Applicant
- 4 General Context
- 5 Policy Framework
- 6 An Integrated Approach to Waste Management
- 7 An Integrated Waste Management Facility
- 8 Balanced Spatial Distribution of Integrated Waste Management Facilities
- 9 Alternative Sites for Regional IWMF
- 10 Proposed Rezoning of Sites for Integrated Waste Management Facilities
- 11 Proposed Rezoning of Shek Kwu Chau IWMF Site to Marine Park
- 12 Justifications
- 13 Conclusions

Appendices

Appendix A: Municipal Solid Waste Management Policy - Present Situation and Way Forward, Professional Commons, April 2012

Appendix B: Incinerators – Heading in wrong direction and failing to solve waste problems, Green Power, April 2011

Appendix C: Letters from WWF-Hong Kong to Director of EPD regarding the development of IWMF (EIA-201/2011), 16 December 2011

Appendix D: Hong Kong “Zero Food Waste” in Green Country, Green Power, June 2013

Appendix E: “Trash Course” in South Morning China Post, 20 August 2013

Appendix F: Overseas Examples of Integrated Waste Management Facilities/Incinerators, March 2011

Appendix G: Economic Analysis